You thought your #Emmys tweets were sooo hilarious

You don't live in Los Angeles. Or
New York City. You have no affiliation whatsoever with the television industry.
To be completely
honest, you work at a mid-level advertising firm in Chicago.

But last night?
Comedy to your 241 Twitter followers—while decked out in sweatpants and an oversized T-shirt on your Ikea couch—was your game. Boy oh boy were your #Emmys tweets so effin' hilarious.

I mean, you definitely thought so.

When you're not spending half the
workday at your office

a part-time officer of the fashion police. So naturally, coverage of the red carpet is your Christmas morning.

Can you even believe what [insert literally
any actor or actress who you've never met and never will] was wearing last night?

Like, what was their stylist thinking? Didn't they, like, look in a mirror or whatever? They said "I'm wearing a custom designer gown" when in actuality it looked like they were
"the victim of their son's last finger-painting project."

I mean, after all: You're the expert here.
Your closet—filled with Merona and Xhilaration clothing from the clearance racks at Target—would really set the tone and turn some heads at the 67th Annual Primetime Emmy Awards.

Why wouldn't you voice your opinions on Beau Bridges' shoes?

This idea of keeping something to yourself? Nah. Every. Thing. Must. Be. Projectile. Word. Vomited. To. The. World.

Your weaving of unoriginal references about Andy Samberg's bad teeth mixed with trace amounts of lazy satire throughout the rest of the night couldn't have nailed it more.

I mean, you're definitely the first person to pose the idea that Taylor Schilling's acting chops resemble that of a bowl of pasta and that the second season of "Silicon Valley" was more uneventful than a Jay Cutler third-down attempt.

You dream of a life
of being paid to tweet
the witty 140-character thoughts that pop into your brain throughout the day. But you have no clips. No references.
And, ya know, you haven't actually applied anywhere.

But, oh man, if you did? You would totally,
like, do such a great job and stuff. Like, how are you not already verified
on Twitter?

All in all, you
#killedit. You gained 11 followers—just six of whom were spam robots—and only violated

a handful of copyright laws from stealing photos from Getty Images via Google Images.

And the award for Biggest #Troll of the Night goes to ... you.

THE 7TH MOST EXPENSIVE CITY

REPORT: CHICAGO AMONG PRICIEST PLACES TO LIVE

By Corilyn Shropshire | CHICAGO TRIBUNE

Hey, Chicago. It's cheaper to live in Tokyo.

Or so says a report released this month by UBS that lists Chicago as the 7th most expensive city, behind top-ranked, super-pricey Swiss towns Zurich and Geneva.

Other cities ranked as more expensive than Chicago are, in order, New York City; Oslo, Norway; Copenhagen, Denmark; and London. Tokyo was listed No. 8, followed by Auckland, New Zealand; and Sydney.

Published every three years, the report ranked the cities based on the cost of goods and services. It also ranked cities including and excluding the cost of rent. In both comparisons, Chicago, where a three-person family on average spends about $2,792 monthly on goods and services, held steady at No. 7. In New York City, spending $3,342 monthly (excluding rent) is the average.

Part of what makes Chicago so expensive is the cost of clothing, according to the report. In Chicago, both men and women would spend more than $1,100 for new business attire. In cheaper locales, like Warsaw, Poland, the cost of a two-piece suit, a blazer, a dress, pantyhose and a pair of shoes for women would cost much less, about $500. Men would pay slightly more in Warsaw, about $670 for a business suit, a blazer, a shirt, a pair of jeans, socks and a pair of shoes.

To compile the rankings, the authors considered the prices of a standardized basket of 122 goods and services in each metropolitan area. Prices were about 2.5 times higher in expensive cities like Zurich, Geneva and New York City than in places like Bucharest, Romania; Sofia, Bulgaria; and Kiev, Ukraine.

Matching Chicago's high prices are its relatively high wages, the report said. Chicago was listed at No. 10 in terms of wage levels in the report. The highest wages were earned in Zurich and Geneva, respectively, with the lowest in Jakarta, Indonesia; and Kiev.

ZONA'D OUT

ALL THAT HOPE THE BEARS HAD AFTER WEEK 1? MUCH TOUGHER TO FIND IT NOW

By Chris Sosa | REDEYE

Cubs-Cardinals anger is well-established in Chicago. You have to dig a little deeper when it comes to Bears-Cardinals, though it is there.

While it's hard to expect every matchup to live up to "They are who we thought they were!" proportions (Thank you, Dennis Green), could Sunday's game rise to "We don't start stuff, but we will stop stuff" levels (Thank you, Joe Maddon)?

Let's see what defined the Bears Way and the Cardinals Way on Sunday, a 48-23 Bears loss.

Bears Way = Channeling Halloween

Not sure one can ask any more of a fan than what this guy gives. The face paint. The jersey patches. The pseudo-voodoo doll of the opposing team's mascot. Next step: a cage match against Chewbacca.

Cardinals Way = Crush dreams early

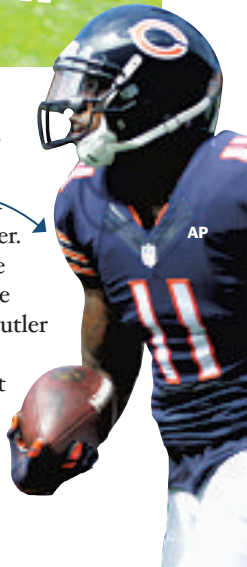

If you were waiting for the Bears to get off to a good start Sunday, you were sorely disappointed. David Johnson returned the opening kickoff 108 yards for a touchdown and was barely touched in the process. The only question was whether a sprinting Robbie Gould could track him down. He couldn't.

Bears Way = Teach me how to Bellamy

With Alshon Jeffery out, the Bears needed someone—anyone—to fill the void at receiver. Enter Joshua Bellamy. The fourth-year player escaped the Cardinals' coverage and Jay Cutler found him wide open for a 48-yard touchdown to tie it at 7. Bellamy celebrated with a dance like he'd never been there before ... because he hadn't.

WEEK 2

Thursday		Sunday
Denver	31	New England	40	Tennessee	14	Houston	17	San Diego	19	Detroit	16	Tampa Bay	26	Atlanta	24	San Francisco	18	St. Louis	10

Arizona wide receiver Larry Fitzgerald celebrates a touchdown with teammates Chris Johnson and Earl Watford. AP

Bears Way = Running Jay Cutler

Pretty much the opposite of Smoking Jay Cutler. The Bears seem to be calling more running plays for him, and it seems to be working. He even threw a stiff-arm of sorts on the Bears' second touchdown drive in addition to practicing his "Please don't hit me!" slide on one TD drive. Cutler actually started the game 8-for-8 passing for 120 yards and a touchdown, but then disaster struck.

Cardinals Way = Wait for Jay

The play that changed the game? That would be Cutler's gut-wrenching interception late in the first half. It wasn't enough that Tony Jefferson returned it for a TD. Cutler's diving tackle attempt made it twice as painful because he left the game with a hamstring injury and did not return. Ouch.

Cardinals Way = Throw it up, hope for the best

Twice the Cardinals drew lengthy pass interference calls on Bears cornerbacks, and both set up touchdowns a short time later. Someone's going to run extra wind sprints this week.

Bears Way = Rebuild ... someday

On his first pass of the second half, Bears backup QB Jimmy Clausen was picked off by Patrick Peterson. That set up a flea-flicker touchdown pass to Larry Fitzgerald. This after the Bears were called for roughing the passer on the play. Didn't matter. At all.

NFC NORTH	W	L	GB
Green Bay	1	0	—
Minnesota	1	1	½
BEARS	0	2	1½
Detroit	0	2	1½

Cardinals Way = They stop stuff

A week ago, the Bears occasionally looked like they were ready to turn a corner in terms of being competitive with the NFL's best. Well, the Cardinals put that to rest for the time being. They dominated the second half while the Bears struggled to move the ball with Clausen at the controls. Maybe next week's road trip to Seattle will help in some way, shape or form. Maybe.

1	Seriously, how great was that Joe Maddon rant?	I already got "I don't start stuff, but I will finish stuff" tattooed on my leg.	So great.	On a scale from Christian Bale to Kanye West, I'd say more like Barack Obama after a few cups of coffee.	The only thing missing was him busting a beer bottle and calling out Mike Matheny to meet him in the parking lot.	I would've preferred a little Lee Elia anger mixed in next time. (YouTube it: April 29, 1983.)
2	In fact, what will Joe Maddon rant about next?	"The rent is too damn high!"	Pumpkin spice lattes and basic b*tches.	How difficult it is to find RV parking in the city.	Can someone sic him on Donald Trump?	It's the Cardinals, there are a MILLION things to rant about! Can we talk about Molina and the neck tattoo?
3	How will we know when the Bears' Kyle Long is comfortable at right tackle?	When he makes it Facebook official.	When he unties his football pants on the field.	When he starts sleeping on the job.	Sorry, but now I can't shake the image of Joe Maddon fighting Donald Trump from my head.	When Jay Cutler stops throwing into double coverage. Oh wait. When he gets a raise!
4	After Tiger Woods recovers from surgery, he will be back out on the course, still missing the cut.	... a halfway decent golfer again.	... as mediocre as ever.	... unable to escape the fury of Joltin' Joe Maddon after he wipes the floor with The Donald!	... the sexual dynamo he once was. Or, he'll take the little blue pill and still finish eighth.
5	The Blackhawks brought back Michal Rozsival. Good move?	A better move than that Kane press conference, that's for sure.	Great move. Czech one off for things the Blackhawks have done right this week.	Everything's coming up Rozs.	Better move, get Joe Maddon to be the team enforcer. You start it, he ends it!	Is hockey going on right now? #LetsGoCubs!

AP

THE DIGIT

6 Northwestern moved up six spots in this week's Associated Press college football poll to No. 17, a day after beating host Duke 19-10. A night game against Ball State looms next week.

Fire dismiss coach

A trying year for the Fire has led to the dismissal of coach Frank Yallop. Following Saturday's loss to Orlando City, Chicago now has the worst record in MLS (7-16-6, 27 points). Two assistant coaches were fired as well. Technical director Brian Bliss takes over as interim head coach.

Can the season start now?

Bulls star Pau Gasol is already having a stellar 2015. At least, since the NBA season ended. He averaged 25.6 points in leading Spain to the EuroBasket tournament title this month. He scored 25 points to go with 12 rebounds, four assists and three blocks in the gold-medal game against Lithuania, which Spain won 80-63.

STOP. WATCH.

Monday's must-see event in sports

WNBA PLAYOFFS

Sky vs. Indiana | 7 p.m. WCIU2, Allstate Arena

Playoff series in the WNBA tend to be unforgiving. The Sky couldn't close out the Fever in Game 2, and now they face a winner-take-all Game 3 at Allstate Arena on Monday. Should reigning MVP Elena Delle Donne and Co. squeeze into the next round, either New York or Washington will be waiting.

MLB

Cubs vs. Milwaukee | 7:05 p.m. CSN

The Cubs surely are upset they didn't sweep St. Louis this past weekend at Wrigley. Which means they'll try and take it out on Milwaukee in this series.

ALSO ON TAP

» White Sox at Detroit, 12:08 p.m. (CSN) and 6:08 p.m. (My50)

Remote controlled

32 new shows making their debuts this fall will keep you watching all season long

By Elise De Los Santos | REDEYE

Get ready for all the drama this season. This fall, dramas dominate most networks' newest offerings, though there is a fresh new crop of comedies as well to lighten up the lineups.

Some shows will have a very familiar ring to them. It started with the success of "Fargo" last year, but the trend of movies getting a second life on TV continues this year with "Limitless" and "Minority Report," even as the reboot train keeps chugging along with new leases on life for "The Muppets" and "Heroes: Reborn."

Medical shows continue to prove popular, with two dramas ("Chicago Med," "Code Black") and a comedy ("Dr. Ken") slated to premiere later this year. Though new crime-solving duos seem to be taking a bit of a break (just "Rosewood" fills the usual formula), conspiracy theories abound ("Blindspot," "Quantico"), along with less-than-conventional takes on serial killers ("Scream Queens," "Wicked City"). OCT. 26

Supergirl 7:30 p.m. CBS
CBS gets into the superhero game with Superman's female counterpart and cousin, Kara Zor-El (Melissa Benoist), who escaped home planet Krypton at age 12 and was raised on Earth by a foster family. After 12 years hiding her abilities, now-24-year-old Kara decides to step out of the shadows and into the skies as Supergirl, complete with iconic cape, tights and logo. She learns, however, that having superhuman powers doesn't solve all your very human problems.

The Muppets

Blindspot

Rosewood

SEPT. 21
Life in Pieces 7:30 p.m. CBS
A comedy revolving around three generations of a family as they deal with reaching different milestones in their lives (example: impending empty-nesters vs. new baby vs. Grandpa turning 70), which will be told in four short stories each episode.

SEPT. 21
Minority Report 8 p.m. Fox
Based on the 2002 film by Steven Spielberg, Fox's series picks up 10 years after the end of "Precrime" law enforcement in D.C. However, a few "precogs," those who can see crimes before they happen, still exist, though they only see some clues, not all that's needed to stop a crime. One precog is Dash (Stark Sands), who teams up with Det. Lara Vega (Meagan Good) to use his gift for good. Also starring: Wilmer Valderrama ("That '70s Show")

SEPT. 21
Blindspot 9 p.m. NBC
A woman (Jaimie Alexander) is found naked in Times Square with no memory of her past except for one big clue: the series of tattoos covering her body. Using the tattoos, the FBI begins to uncover a larger conspiracy, while she tries to find out the truth about herself. Also starring: Sullivan Stapleton ("Strike Back")

SEPT. 22
The Muppets 7 p.m. ABC
Miss Piggy and Kermit already have made headlines with their very public breakup and subsequent hookups with other celebs. In the same vein, this doc-style show will focus on the lives and relationships of the Muppets as they live in our world and deal with very human problems and desires, both at work and at home.

SEPT. 22
Scream Queens 7 p.m. Fox
When the dean (Jamie Lee Curtis) at Wallace University decrees that Kappa Kappa Tau must accept anyone who wants to pledge, the Kappa president (Emma Roberts) makes it her mission to haze the hell out of them. When one pledge dies, it reawakens a 20-year-old murder mystery, and a serial killer could be on the loose. From creator Ryan Murphy ("Glee," "American Horror Story"). Also starring: Skyler

Samuels, Lea Michele, Abigail Breslin, Keke Palmer, Niecy Nash, Nick Jonas and Ariana Grande

SEPT. 22
Limitless 9 p.m. CBS
When Brian (Jake McDorman) is given the mysterious drug NZT by Sen. Edward Morra (Bradley Cooper, in a recurring role), his mental and physical abilities suddenly seem to have no bounds. Quickly on his trail, though, is the FBI, who recognize the drug's effects from a failed program that killed two people years ago and want to use his newfound powers to help them solve cases.

SEPT. 23
Rosewood 7 p.m. Fox
Private pathologist Dr. Beaumont Rosewood Jr. (Morris Chestnut) teams up with Det. Annalise Villa (Jaina Lee Ortiz) to solve crimes in Miami, which means flashy cars, minimal clothing and zipping around on a boat from time to time. However, the smooth-talking Rosie has a heart condition that puts an end date on his own life expectancy within the next decade. Also starring: Lorraine Toussaint ("Orange is the New Black")

Blood & Oil*Quantico*Code Black*Grandfathered*Heroes Reborn*SEPT. 24*Heroes Reborn 7 p.m. NBC

A reboot of the 2006 series, NBC revisits its version of "X-Men" in a 13-episode miniseries. After being blamed for a terrorist attack, those with special abilities mostly are in hiding or on the run, but some have turned vigilante while others are trying to spread the truth about what really happened in the attack. A mix of new characters joins old ones from the original series.

SEPT. 24The Player 9 p.m. NBC

Wesley Snipes stars as a Vegas pit manager who oversees high-stakes gambling based on the ability of military operative-turned-security expert Alex (Philip Winchester) to stop real-life crimes from happening. His first target is the man he believes to have killed his wife.

SEPT. 27Blood & Oil 8 p.m. ABC

A young couple (Chace Crawford, Rebecca Rittenhouse) heads to North Dakota to make their fortune but nearly loses everything in a car accident. As they rebuild their lives, they find themselves going head to head for a piece of potentially oil-rich land against the biggest oil tycoon in the area, Hap Briggs (Don Johnson), who reluctantly admires Billy's (Crawford) business savvy, especially compared with his slacker son (Scott Michael Foster), whom he has disowned.

SEPT. 27Indian Summers 8 p.m. PBS

Set in the 1930s, the miniseries explores the intersection of the ruling English class and their Indian subjects in Simla, in what is present-day India, during the final years of the British empire. The story is told from both English and Indian points of view, as most of the former are content to continue partying in their home away from home and some of the latter are beginning to agitate for independence.

SEPT. 27Quantico 9 p.m. ABC

A class of new recruits arrives at FBI base Quantico for training. They face the same troubles, temptations and tests that any good-looking group of people forced to live with and compete against one another would face, but then the biggest terrorist attack on American soil since 9/11 occurs. One of the recruits (Priyanka Chopra) is arrested for the attack, but when she's given the chance to escape, she does so with the intent of finding out which of her fellow recruits is responsible to clear her own name.

SEPT. 29Grandfathered 7 p.m. Fox

Restaurant owner and ultimate bachelor Jimmy (John Stamos) is pretty set in his ways—until he discovers he's got a son (Josh Peck) and a granddaughter. Soon, he's learning how to babysit while also teaching his adorkable son the finer points of dressing and dating.

The Grinder*SEPT. 29*The Grinder 7:30 p.m. Fox

After eight successful seasons playing a lawyer on TV, Dean (Rob Lowe) moves back home, much to the initial chagrin of his real-life lawyer brother Stewart (Fred Savage). Though Stewart has the law degree, he doesn't have the public speaking chops or presence required to command the attention of a courtroom, which is exactly where his brother's talents come into play.

SEPT. 30Code Black 9 p.m. CBS

A group of first-year residents cut their teeth in LA County Hospital's ER, the busiest, most notorious in the nation, whose physical and human resources are constantly stretched to the limit. Residency director Dr. Leanne Rorish (Marcia Gay Harden) keeps the residents and patients in order with the help of senior nurse Jesse Sallander (Luis Guzman), Dr. Neal Hudson (Raza Jaffrey) and Dr. Rollie Guthrie (William Allen Young).

OCT. 1Benders 9 p.m. IFC

Hockey's hot, and the action has crossed over into the scripted variety. A group of guys from all walks of life bond over their obsessive love for their amateur ice hockey team, the Chubbys. They talk love and relationships in the bro-iest way possible: chatting rinkside as they wait to take the ice.

OCT. 2Dr. Ken 7:30 p.m. ABC

Doctor-turned-actor Ken Jeong (the "Hangover" franchise) finds art imitating life in this new sitcom in which he plays a doctor with a questionable bedside manner. At home, he's got two kids he's cluelessly trying to raise with his therapist wife (Suzy Nakamura).

OCT. 4Home Fires 7 p.m. PBS

At the beginning of World War II, the focus of the English village of Great Paxford turns to its women and social group The Women's Institute. In the group, the women form new relationships, bond with one another over their troubles and try to keep up morale on the home front while the men go off to war.

OCT. 7Casual Hulu

Jason Reitman ("Up in the Air," "Juno") executive produces a comedy for the streaming service that centers on a recently divorced mom (Michaela Watkins) who moves in with her bachelor brother (Tommy Dewey) after her breakup. They help each other navigate the world of online and real-life dating while also raising her teenage daughter (Tara Lynne Barr).

OCT. 7American Horror Story: Hotel 9 p.m. FX

Lady Gaga stars in the latest installment of Ryan Murphy's anthology series as the mysterious Countess, owner of the titular hotel. Wes Bentley plays an LAPD detective who checks in to check out a series of murders. Other guests and residents staying at the hotel include characters played by Matt Bomer, Cheyenne Jackson, Angela Bassett, Naomi Campbell, Kathy Bates, Evan Peters, Max Greenfield and Sarah Paulson.

Super Mansion*OCT. 8*Super Mansion Crackle

What happens when superheroes are past their primes? They become roommates in a mansion, of course. De facto leader Titanium Rex (voiced by Bryan Cranston) and his band of washed-up heroes yearn for the old days but find themselves banding together to fight some good old-fashioned bad guys in the present. This animated series from the makers of Robot Chicken also features the voices of Jillian Bell, Seth Green, Keegan-Michael Key, Nick Kroll, Chris Pine, Anton Yelchin and Famke Janssen.

OCT. 19Crazy Ex-Girlfriend

7 p.m. CW

When Rebecca (Rachel Bloom) runs into Josh (Vincent Rodriguez III), her ex-boyfriend from 10 years ago, and he mentions he's moving to California, on a whim she packs up her successful life in New York and follows him out West with a song and a dance (a la "500 Days of Summer"). Once there, she struggles to connect with him and, oh, he has a non-Facebook-official girlfriend, leaving Rebecca to doubt her sanity and wrestle with the level of her desperation.

OCT. 27
Wicked City

9 p.m. ABC
The 1980s gets its time in the spotlight as the Sunset Strip maintains a high of rock 'n' roll, cocaine—and murder. The show follows a serial killer (Ed Westwick) who falls in dark, twisted love with a sociopath (Erika Christensen), and together they prowl the famed strip of Sunset Boulevard for victims while detectives try to solve the mystery of the killings.

OCT. 31
Ash vs. Evil Dead

8 p.m. Starz
Thirty years after Ash (Bruce Campbell) and his friends went to a cabin in the woods, found a book of the dead and unleashed its evil into the world (see: 1981 movie “The Evil Dead”), Ash finds himself fighting alongside a crew of younger allies as well as Lucy Lawless in the midst of a new war against the Deadites. This newest iteration of the “Evil Dead” franchise brings 21st-century polish to the gore without forgetting its campy roots.

NOV. 5
Angel from Hell

8:30 p.m. CBS
Dermatologist Allison (Maggie Lawson) runs into Amy (Jane Lynch) one day ... and keeps running into her all over town. Amy then reveals herself as Allison's guardian angel who sees Allison headed down a bad path in her relationships and the way she's dealing with the relatively recent death of her mom.

NOV. 6
Master of None

Netflix
Dev (Aziz Ansari, also the series' co-creator) is a pretty stereotypical Millennial who can't decide what to do with himself. The story will touch on things as serious as the plight of the elderly and the immigrant experience to lighter fare, such as how to find the most delicious pasta for dinner. Reports say the show's material will be based partly on Ansari's stand-up, as well as his recent book, “Modern Romance.” Also starring: Ansari's parents, as his parents.

NOV. 8
Flesh and Bone

8 p.m. Starz
It's Claire's (Sarah Hay) final attempt to make it as a dancer in a major ballet company, and she captures the attention of the complicated, demanding artistic director (Ben Daniels). The series goes beyond the superficial beauty of the ballet show and also explores the gritty side of the ballet world: sex, drugs and a whole lot of other issues the dancers struggle with while trying to stay on top.

NOV. 15
Into the Badlands

9 p.m. AMC
In this martial arts series set in a fictional, feudal land that resembles the Antebellum South (but also has cars and motorcycles and a touch of steampunk), a warrior (Daniel Wu) restlessly yearns for something more than killing while continuing to do what he does best. He rescues a boy (Aramis Knight) who is wanted for some unknown reason by The Widow (Emily Beecham), who wants to seize power from one of the powerful barons who rule the land.

NOV. 17
Chicago Med

8 p.m. NBC
Executive producer Dick Wolf adds to his “Chicago Fire” and “Chicago P.D.” network of shows with this new medical drama, in which characters from Wolf's other two series will appear from time to time, including in the pilot. Keeping the city's “most explosive” hospital running is a team of doctors (Oliver Platt, Nick Gehlfuss, Colin Donnell and Brian Tee), head of hospital Sharon Goodwin (S. Epatha Merkerson) and nurse April Sexton (Yaya DaCosta).

Chicago Med

NOV. 19
The Art of More

Crackle
New York's auction houses have more than glamour and prestige going for them, they've also got crime and intrigue. Former soldier Graham (Christian Cooke) uses his knowledge of antiquities smuggling rings from his time in Iraq as a way into this world, working for an art collector (Cary Elwes). He crosses paths with a real estate shark (Dennis Quaid), who becomes romantically involved with an auction house CEO's daughter (Kate Bosworth), who is an account executive in her own right. It's not clear exactly what everyone wants, except that they want more of it.

Red carpet looks from the Emmy Awards

By Morgan Olsen | REDEYE

Selfie sticks may have been banned from the red carpet at the 67th Emmy Awards, but that won't stop us from sharing the glitz, glam and gowns straight from Los Angeles. As Amy Schumer, Jon Hamm, Viola Davis and Tina Fey descended on the Microsoft Theater, we rounded up the best (and most memorable) looks from the red carpet. Here's who caught our eye at the Emmy Awards. MCOLSEN@REDEYETCHICAGO.COM | @MCOLSEN

GETTY IMAGES PHOTOS

Sarah Hyland

This wine-colored number is the epitome of Hollywood glamour, but the off-the-shoulder neckline is what really does it for me. Also, can we talk about the hair?

Laverne Cox

If the cutout trend ends here and now, I'd be happy to see it go out this way. Cox looks gorgeous and glowing in this form-fitting frock.

Teyonah Parris

I'm willing to bet this dress will catch major flak from fashion police everywhere, but I can't help loving how much fun the "Man Men" star is having in this youthful polka-dot gown.

Brad Goreski

The always stylish "Fashion Police" co-host looked dapper in a tailored charcoal gray suit, polished loafers and a classic bow tie. At least he can't make fun of himself come Monday, right?

Laura Prepon

The "Orange Is the New Black" star looks lovely in red, but what's with the embellished mini jacket? It takes this look from hot bridesmaid to mother of the bride.

TAROT.COM

Virgo Aug. 23-Sept. 22

Get ready to bring sexy back! During the next several weeks, you're likely to feel a surge in confidence and your sex drive. You will have little trouble going after whomever it is you desire—even if you're usually the more reserved type.

Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23

Expect an electrifying encounter with your partner this week. You and your mate are sure to have an exhilarating time that will somehow put plenty of sparks back into your lives. Then, a lunar eclipse on Sunday will lead to a turning point in your relationship. It'll be deep.

Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 21

Expect even more activity in your social life. Until Nov. 12, there will be an extraordinary level of chaos and stimulation when it comes to friends and groups. If you're single, this might be a time you decide to make a move and initiate contact with someone you meet online.

Sagittarius Nov. 22-Dec. 21

Romance will surely be your focus—for better or worse! On Sunday, a lunar eclipse in your true love sector will help you truly see the light when it comes to your relationship with someone special. If you're meant to have a future together, you'll know it.

Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 19

It's all about home and family matters this week. On Tuesday, you and your mate will enjoy a happy development that affects your family finances. Then, on Sunday, it'll be clear that a change must happen for you both to feel the way you want to feel at home. You're both ready for it.

Aquarius Jan. 20-Feb. 18

A conversation with your sweetheart on Tuesday will surprise you—in the most amazing way possible. You'll come away from this week feeling as if your friendship with one another has been fortified along with the love you share as a couple.

Pisces Feb. 19-March 20

You and your partner are ready to stir the pot and add a lot more spice to your relationship. You'll notice that you two are no longer willing to sweep problems under the rug. While it's true that you'll both feel edgier, any arguments you have will likely lead to fantastic makeup sex.

Aries March 21-April 19

A lunar eclipse in your sign on Sunday will require you to let go of something you've attached to your identity for way too long but have now outgrown. Let it happen regardless of what your partner thinks about it. After all, it's your life.

Taurus April 20-May 20

This Thursday, Mars, the planet that rules libido and sex, will enter your 5th House of True Love for the first time in two years. Mars will remain in this part of your chart until Nov. 11, adding even more opportunity for you to get your groove on with someone special. Yes!

Gemini May 21-June 21

You and your partner will truly feel like a team this week. If you have any endeavor that you want to collaborate on, aim to begin it Thursday. Also, you might feel a stronger level of stability in your relationship than you have in the past.

Cancer June 22-July 22

There's definitely more of a focus this week on work and career matters rather than love. Use this week to get back on track with your professional goals and allow your love life to simply float. After all, your partner should want you to take advantage of all the professional energy you have in store.

Leo July 23-Aug. 22

Someone special might take your breath away this Tuesday! As long as you're willing to go with the flow and try something new, you won't be disappointed. Also, a conversation between you and your sweetie Wednesday might have both of you thinking about the future. Your future ... together.

Are you a U.S. Veteran?
Have you been diagnosed with low back pain?

You may be eligible for a research study examining the effect of morning bright light therapy on your pain, sleep and mood.

- ❖ We are looking for U.S. veterans who are 18-70 years old
- ❖ Study takes 23 days, with a 30 day minimal contact follow up
- ❖ Study involves:
 - 1. Wearing a wrist monitor, sleeping at home
 - 2. Four visits to our laboratory where you have a pain assessment
 - 3. Three nights at home where you collect your saliva
 - 4. Two weeks where you use bright light boxes for 1 hour each morning (we will visit you at home to set up light boxes)
- ❖ No drugs or invasive procedures like blood draws
- ❖ You will be compensated up to $825 for your time, and learn if a light box improves your pain, sleep and mood.
- ❖ Free parking in our attached garage.

To get more information or apply for study, please visit

THE QUOTE

“I understand that acting is not rocket science. I do. But I do feel that it’s an important art form. It is my mission in life to make women of color a part of the narrative in our business.”

—Viola Davis, speaking at the National Women’s History Museum’s fourth annual Women Making History Brunch in Los Angeles on Saturday, according to people.com

More Ghostbusters reboot news

Sorry, we’re just really excited for the “Ghostbusters” reboot. The A.V. Club is reporting that Ernie Hudson will be making a cameo in the Paul Feig reboot. Hudson played Winston Zeddemore, one of the original Ghostbusters. Hudson will be joining Dan Aykroyd and Bill Murray, according to avclub.com. Feig announced Saturday that the movie had finished filming, according to ew.com.

THE DIGIT

$30.3M

That’s how much money “Maze Runner: The Scorch Trials” made at the box office this weekend, according to ew.com. The movie was expected to earn about $35 million and fell short of the first “Maze Runner’s” $32.5 million. Johnny Depp’s “Black Mass” came in second to the tune of $23.4 million, according to ew.com.

And here’s Donald Trump

“Saturday Night Live” has blessed Taran Killam (left) with the opportunity to play Republican presidential hopeful Donald Trump, according to thr.com. The 41st season of “SNL” kicks off Oct 3. We’re 100 percent sure that Trump has given the show enough fodder so far that Killam will be entertaining us for a very long time.

Girl from ‘Girls’ gets married

Allison Williams and her longtime boyfriend, Ricky Van Veen, were married this weekend, according to eonline.com. The couple were married Saturday in a ranch wedding. Yes, Lena Dunham was there, according to eonline.com. So was Tom Hanks. So that sounds like a party we’re pissed we missed. Congratulations to the happy couple!

See ya never, ‘Mad Men’

“Mad Men” creator Matthew Weiner told E! Online that a spin-off of the AMC show will never happen. “I’m not judging people who do spinoffs, but despite the temptation and I love these characters and love working with these people, I’d like to leave the show the way it is,” he said, according to eonline.com. Well, we’re pretty OK with this decision.
